

TREEMER / ORDINARY

Daily routines, a friendship, sanity. Things we easily take for granted are necessarily not valued until lost – something you’ve heard a thousand times before, right?

Ordinary is about to refresh that cliché. This new song by Treemer, the Helsinki-based indiepop-quintet, is wrapping common things into an unprecedented mantle of beauty and mystery.

After the feverish post-punk/grunge -energy of Treemer’s double A-side Paper cuts / Eyewitness (01/22), Ordinary is taking the band back to their dreampop-shoegaze -roots. The easy beat, electric bass/background noise, eerie melodies with layered guitars and Mia’s plain voice create a space simultaneously calm and a bit haunting. As if the band was performing on the stage of Twin Peaks’ Road House -bar.

Proof of Treemer doing whatever they want, whenever they want, Ordinary is the first single from the band’s forthcoming Mini LP “Septembre”, out later this autumn.

Ordinary* will be published on all major streaming platforms on August the 19th 2022.

Treemer are: Marko Haikonen (guitars), Mia Keurulainen (vocals), Tommi Lehtonen (drums), Sam Shingler (guitars) and Joakim Schonert (bass guitar).
